DESCENDANTS OF JAMES SCHOOLCRAFT

Don Norman

The country of origin of the WV Schoolcrafts is not known. At least one writer speculates that the line may have originated in Lancashire County, England, since the name is common there, and other American lines originated in that County.

It is also possible that the WV line originated in Germany and that "Shoolcraft" was an Anglacized spelling of a German name.

Another school of thought identifies James Calcraft as founder of the Schoolcraft line. As of January 1995, there is not enough evidence to connect these two genealogies and James Calcraft's line will be the subject of a paper titled "Descendants of James Calcraft."

1.JAMES SCHOOLCRAFT

The earliest recorded ancestor of the WV line on the American continent is Private James Schoolcraft, a British soldier stationed at Albany, New York in 1712. James is known to have gone absent without leave and was pardoned by Governor Robert Hunter of New York. James was in the British Army as late as December 1713.

James was closely associated with a "Palatine" or German settlement in the Schoharie, New York area. He took at least one wife and possibly two, from the Palatine settlements. Only two of James' children are recorded.

2.CHRISTIAN SCHOOLCRAFT 1.JAMES SCHOOLCRAFT

Little is known of Christian Schoolcraft, except that he remained loyal to the crown during the American revolution and had three sons who served the crown in that conflict. This branch of the family allegedly fled to Canada after the Colonial victory.

Perhaps this is a good point to insert a letter concerning the Schoolcrafts. This letter was written by Margaret Bush and was postmarked April 1, 1868 at 33 Courtlandt Street, NY and was addressed to J.M. Bennett, Buckhannon, Upshur County, WV.

The letter reads as follows:

"To the best of my recollection of the famous Schoolcraft family on this 24th day of March in the year of our Lord 1868, I, Margaret Bush, sworn and subscribe this is written in my own hand."

"William and Austead Schoolcraft were brothers, William had a son Matthew, don't know no more of this line. Austead had 2 sons, James 1737 who had son James II 1775 who married Mary Carpenter and second wife was Catharine Bush whom he married when he was 50 years old on June 18, 1825, performed by Rev. John Mitchell. Catharine was borne October 1805 and is the daughter of Adam and Margaret Bush, my namesake."

"Austead second son was John 1745 whose wife was killed by Indians in September 1779. Their children were John 1761, Jacob 1762, who married Mary Ann Parsons, Leonard 1763, Lucy 1764, Matthias 1765, Mary 1766, Martha 1766, Simon 1768, Michael 1769, Austin 1770, Sarah 1772, Polly 1773, Nancy 1774 and Charity 1774. When Indians killed Mrs. Schoolcraft eight of her small babies was killed to, Lucy, Mary, Martha, Austin, Sarah, Polly, Nancy and Charity. Matthias, Simon and Michael was captured by Indians in 1781 on Pigeon Roost of Stonecoal, Matthias was killed and Simon and Michael remained with the Indians. Jacob escaped. Leonard was 16 when he was captured in 1779 and made to run the gauntlet and was recognized many times while making raids on the whiteman. Jacob had these children, Aaron, James, Mary, Ann, John and Permilia."

Margaret Bush cannot be positively identified, but she is believed to be either Margaret Bush born 1833, daughter of William and Mary (Wallace) Bush or Margaret Bush, born 1834, daughter of Paulcer and Elizabeth (Heckert) Bush.

If Margaret is the daughter of William and Mary Bush, the Margaret (Hagle) Bush she refers to as "my namesake", was her great aunt. If she is the daughter of Paulcer and Elizabeth (heckert) Bush, Margaret (Hagle) Bush was her grandmother.

In either case, we can assume that Margaret's information is generally correct, because her family was connected with the Schoolcrafts by marriage.

There are discrepancies between her letter and other information. She identifies Astien's brother as William, while other sources list him as Christian. Also, Margaret's dates of birth for Astien's children are at variance with recorded ages and she records Jacob Schoolcraft as having married Mary Ann Parsons, when records report that Mary Ann Parsons married Thomas Cottrell Jr. and Rebecca Parsons married Jacob Schoolcraft.

These variations do not detract from the value of Margaret's record; she was probably working from memories of stories told by her parents and grandparents about events that happened years before her birth.

3.ASTIEN SCHOOLCRAFT 1.JAMES SCHOOLCRAFT

Astien Schoolcraft, a son of James Schoolcraft, was baptized at Schenectady, New York in 1720 and was probably born that year. He married Catherine Countryman in the Schoharie New York area. The baptisms of two children are recorded at Schoharie; James in 1743 and Matthias in 1745.

Astien and Catharine left Schoharie after 1745 and in 1749, the baptism of their daughter, Catherine Lisabetha, is recorded at Tulpehocken, Berks County, Pennsylvania. Astien's presence is recorded in Augusta County VA in 1760 and the family was residing in what is now Highland County VA in 1766. Astien and his sons, John and Matthias, all claimed land on the south Branch of the Potomac River in that year. Their names also appear on the delinquent tax rolls for 1766, suggesting that they may have encountered financial problems.

They never received titles for their land and certificates issued by the Commissioners in Clarksburg, VA (WV) in 1781 indicate that the family had come to what is now Upshur and Lewis Counties in VA in 1774.

Although it is not known whether the Schoolcrafts were in the Battle of Point Pleasant in September of 1774 during Lord Dunmore's War, John, James, Matthias and Matthew were all on the rolls of the militia companies during the period, so they must have played some part in the campaign.

Astien was killed by Indians in 1780 in the area of present day Buckhannon, WV.

4.JOHN SCHOOLCRAFT 3.ASTIEN SCHOOLCRAFT 1.JAMES SCHOOLCRAFT

John Schoolcraft, a son of Astien and Catharine (Countryman) Schoolcraft, was born about 1740 in the area of Schoharie, New York and came to Fink's Run, near Buckhannon Fort, about 1774 with his family. His brother James settled on the main fork of Fink's Run in 1774, and John Schoolcraft settled on Stone Coal Run in 1775. They each obtained a certificate for 400 acres in 1781 (their land joined and John's land bordered land of Henry Flesher). (The current highway between Buchannon and Weston crosses Stone Coal Run). Matthew, another brother, claimed 400 acres on Sand Fork in Lewis County in 1774.

Although no documentary proof is in evidence, one account alleged that John married Miotoka Nyeswanan, a Deleware Incian pricess, daughter of Bemino, or John Killbuck Sr.

In the spring of 1779, Leonard Schoolcraft, 16 year old son of John, was captured by Indians near Buchannon Fort and carried into captivity. In September 1779, Indians attacked the John Schoolcraft homestead on Fink's run and John's wife and eight of their children were killed and two sons, Simon and Michael, were captured.

In April 1781, the last three children were fired upon by Indians, as they were returning from a nearby "Pigeon Roost" on Stone Coal Creek. Matthias was killed, then John and Jacob were made prisoner. Thus within two years, this family of sixteen was entirely broken up. Nine of the children and the mother were killed and three boys swept away into captivity.

Leonard Schoolcraft stayed with the Indians, turned renegade, and led raids along the frontier. There has been some speculation that Leonard was the leader of the group that killed Astien Schoolcraft in 1780 and that he was also involved in the 1781 incident when Matthias was killed. Dennis B. Rodgers, writing in The Hacker's

Creek Journal, says:

"Based upon his later conduct, we know that Leonard had the capability for murder. The evidence is pretty clear that a little over eight years after his capture, in December of 1787, he was the leader of a small band of Indians who ventured into the Hacker's Creek Settlement, seemingly for the purpose of killing Mary Ann Hacker, the then new wife of Edmund West Jr."

John and Jacob were held in captivity until nearly grown before they managed to escape. The boy adapted so readily to their environment that they were eventually entrusted with guns and a limited amount of ammunition for which they were required to account at the close of each day's hunt. They were able to hoard a few bullets, and charges of powder, along with some jerky, so one morning they left as if for a hunt, but started toward frontier settlements along a well worn Indian trail. Their knowledge of woodslore made their trail extremely difficult to follow and at times impossible. Once they hid in a cavern in a high cliff with a good view of the trail. Towards sundown, a small band of Indians passed in pursuit, and the following evening, the baffled warriors repassed on their return home.

That night the boys continued their flight, making a detour and striking the trail several miles ahead. When they finally approached West's Fort (near present-day Clarksburg) they were mistaken for Indians and nearly fired-upon. By holding-up their reversed guns and making signs of peace they were received without incident. They later traveled to Wappatomaka, where their father had gone after his family was destroyed.

The father, John Sr., was reportedly over joyed at the return of the prodigals, however, he indentured his son John to John Wolf in 1784 and John Wolf dropped a pending law suit against John Sr. The younger John was set at liberty from servitude to John Wolf by the Harrison County Court April 19, 1791.

In 1786, Peter Kinshelo sued John Sr. for almost ten pounds due on various goods, including a gallon of whiskey. John's name disappears from the court records after 1787, indicating that he either died or moved on to less troubled climes.

Young John applied for a Revolutionary War pension on July 25, 1833, in Lewis County, claiming service as an Indian spy in Ohio under Ebenezer Zane. This claim was denied, on the grounds that John was simply too young. (He was 14 at the time of his indenture to John Wolf in 1784).

In Volume VII, Issue 4 of "The Hacker's Creek Journal", E.J. Schoolcraft reports that John Schoolcraft's wife was an Indian woman named Miotoka Nyeswanan and that a sister of John's wife had married Jacob Brake Sr. of Hardy County, VA (WV). He names Janet Cosgrove of Buckhannon, WV as his source.

However, a perusal of the Stump family history reveals that Jacob Brake Sr.'s wife was Catharine Stump. Catharine, a daughter of Michael and Catharine Stump, was born in Germany October 22, 1741 and died after April 9, 1816.

Of course, this information does not prove that John Schoolcraft's wife was not an Indian, but it does cast doubt upon the theory that Jacob Brake Jr.'s activities had any connection with the Indian raids on the Schoolcrafts.

5.JAMES SCHOOLCRAFT 3.ASTIEN SCHOOLCRAFT 1.JAMES SCHOOLCRAFT

James Schoolcraft, a son of Astien and Catharine (Countryman) Schoolcraft, was born in the Schoharie New York area about 1743. Apparently, James did not move the Hacker's Creek area until 1784, although he did make a trip to Clarksburg in 1781 to obtain a certificate for land on Fink's Run. By 1784, James was the head of a family of eight living on Hacker's Creek. His mother, Catharine (Countryman) Schoolcraft, was a member of this family.

James' name appears on the tax rolls for the last time in 1794. There appears to have been some sort of tragedy that wiped out most of the family. In April 1795, Catharine Schoolcraft, a daughter of Elizabeth, was bound to John Hagle. This is probably James' daughter.

In 1810, fifteen year old John the Baptist Schoolcraft was bound to George Deakon. Some believe that John the Baptist was a son of James and Elizabeth, born the same year that his parents died and that he was raised by James and Mary (Carpenter) Schoolcraft. Unfortunately, only one of James' children, James, can be documented.

Jacob Schoolcraft, a son of John Schoolcraft, was born in VA. His birth date is not certain, since it is reported as before 1765 in the 1810 and 1820 censuses, between 1770 and 1780 in the 1830 census of Wood County Va and 1759 in Hampshire County in his Revolutionary War pension claim. (#R9268). He died in Gilmer County, Virginia (WV), in 1850.

He married Rebecca Parsons, a daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth (Bush) Parsons. Jacob and Rebecca settled on the West Fork of the Little Kanawha River, where at one time they owned most all of Bear Run.

James Schoolcraft is believed to be a son of James and Elizabeth Schoolcraft and is believed to have been born in the Schoharie of New York in 1774. He moved to Harrison County VA with his parents about 1784. A few years afterward, both his parents died and he married Mary Carpenter in Harrison county in 1795. Mary was a daughter of Solomon and Sudna (Hughes) Carpenter.

According to information from Dennis B. Rodgers, the couple is believed to have had one child about 1798. Mary probably died sometime between 1798 and 1810.

James remarried and his family appears in the 1820 census of Butler County, Ohio. His second wife died, probably about 1820.

His third wife was Elizabeth -----, whom he married about 1821. The family moved to Washington Township, Tippecanoe County, Indiana in 1828 and James died there November 30, 1834. Elizabeth died there June 21, 1860.

Jamima Schoolcraft, a daughter of John and Sarah Martha (Hall) Schoolcraft, was born in what is now Calhoun County WV in 1835. She married Robert "Rob" Nicholas. Robert, a son of Zepaniah and Catherine (McElwain) Nichols, was born about 1832 in what is now Calhoun County, WV.

The traditional story is that "Rob" wished to marry Christina Schoolcraft, daughter of John and Sarah (Hall) Schoolcraft, but that her parents would not agree to the match. They did give their consent to "Rob" and their daughter Jamima marrying. Jamima and "Rob" did marry, but "Rob" and Christina had children out of wedlock.

The traditional story also says that "Rob" lived in the same house with his wife Jamima, Christina and Sarah Smarr. This story is supported by the 1880 Gilmer Census that lists all three women in Rob's household.

Known children of Robert and Jamima (Schoolcraft) Nicholas.

Nancy Jane Schoolcraft was one of twins born to John and Sarah Martha (Hall) Schoolcraft June 21, 1855 in Calhoun County VA (WV). She married Nathan Cottrill in Gilmer county WV November 20, 1872.

Nathan, a son of Thomas Jr. and Mary Ann (Parsons) Cottrell, was born April 12, 1854, in Calhoun County WV on the left fork of the West Fork of the Little Kanawha River. Nathan reported his occupation as ginseng digger in at least one census report, and Coy Norman remembered how he had seen his grandfather set out "sangin'". Coy said that Nathan carried his lunch and a very small, specially made mattock in a cloth sack. This mattock took a very small handle, and Nathan would cut a stick for a handle each day, rather than carry a handle. Nancy Jane died about 1911 on Tanner's Fork of the Right Fork of Steer Creek in Gilmer County WV, and is buried in the Cottrell Simmons cemetery on Tanner's Fork. Nathan died July 5, 1927 (while living with his son, French on Tanner's Fork. Nathan is buried in the Cottrell cemetery at the head of Frozen run.
